CAPACITY, THE INTERNET AND SOCIAL MEDIA

In recent years, the use of the internet and social media to interact with others, has grown and is now part of many people's everyday life.

When used safely and appropriately, it can be a way of connecting with the outside world and having a wealth of information available at our fingertips. But it can also have a devastating effect on lives, with on-line stalking, bullying and the uploading of private images becoming common place.

Working in co-operation, Brain Injury Group, Enable Law, TSF Consultants and Westcountry Case Management will be considering how to ensure those who lack capacity are able to enjoy the benefits of social media and the internet, whilst also ensuring their online safety.

Pending accreditation from APIL Training (Litigator/Senior Litigator)
